USE FOUND EIGHTEEN FEET BELOW THE Subface.—During the excavation of a street ile, Ind., last Tuesday, the workmen came remains of a cabin, eighteen feet below the of the earth. This wonderful subterranean is about twelve feet in length, formed by upis set in the ground, and boarded up with icheons, secured by wooden pins. The ncheons and pins were partially decayed, stuck together. Within the walls were tions of an old fashioned spinning wheel, a ul, several pairs of boots and shoes, and charred stick which the former occu-I the house had used to punch the fire with.

THE MEETING OF THE EMPERORS OF FRANCE AND RUSSIA.—The Stuttgard (Germany) correspondent of the St. Louis Republican gives the following interestdescription of the Emperors of France and Russia.

During the stay of the Emperor Napoleon and the Czar, I had a good opportunity of seeing them on more than one occasion, and the first thing that struck me was the marked contrast in the appearance of the two men. Napoleon's face is the exact opposite to that of his uncle. His is by no means as handne, and its general contour is entirely different. His complexion is bronzed by the sun, I presume from exposure to its effects at the camp at Chalens; his eyes are light and surrounded by a large circle of white, that gives them a sinister expression, or to make my meaning plainer, they have the look of the eyes of a kicking horse, with the exception that the lids are heavy and sleepy-looking; but when he rolls them around, he looks as if he meant mischief. His lose and mouth are good, but he disfigures their beauty by an enormous mustache and a long goatee. His forehead is well formed, and redeems in some legree the wicked look of his eyes. His hair is neither light nor dark. On the whole, his face shows ergy, determination, cunning and genius. I am a reat believer in physiognomy, and, judging from his ice, I am of the opinion that it is not necessary for him to consult his ministers to know what to do, and when to do it. If Napoleon III, cannot take care of his own and his people's interests his face is a lie, that is certain. His person is very good, and I think him one of the finest horsemen I have ever seen. The Czar Alexander II. is really a very bandsome nan in form and feature. He is not so tall as his father, the late Emperor Nicholas, but he is above medium hight, and his profile very much resembles that of his celebrated father. The jaundiced correspondent of the London Times says "he has rapidly grown old since he mounted the throne, and his present looks give some strength to the unsatisfactory reports that are current of the state of his health and his habits of life." What those unsatisfactory reports may have been; I am unable to say, but I ertainly saw nothing about his appearance to justify ch an attack. His complexion was clear and ruddy, evincing a high state of health. He has a rather round, jovial-looking face, and looks as if he would like to be at "peace with all the world and the rest of mankind," if he was but let alone. His eye is large, full and sparkling with a mixture of good humor and benevolence. He wears his whiskers a la militaire, coming down half way on his cheeks and running across his upper lip, on which he wears a mustache, which is exceedingly becoming to him.

On horseback he sits and looks "every inch a king." A grocer having mentioned to one of his lady cusmers that the submarine telegraph was broken, she replied that if in the next attempt they should grease the cable with some of his strong butter which she had been using for some time, she thought it would impart strength to it. The grocer smiled faintly, out compliment, but didn't see the point of the joke.

DEATH OF A GREAT MILLIONAIRE.—The London Times of the 2d inst., contains a long biographical notice of one of the "merchant princes" of the great metropolis, who has had most extensive relations with this country. Mr. James Morrison, the eminent millionaire in question, died at his seat, Basildon Park, on the 30th ult., aged 68, and worth $20,000,000, a considerable portion of which, it is stated by the Times, is invested in the United States, and so well invested too that it suffers no diminution by the present commercial difficulties. We believe that it was Mr. Morrison who had a suit with the Dry Dock Bank in New York some years since. He went to London a poor boy, and laid the foundation of his great fortune by engaging in the dry goods trade, in which he was the first to introduce the principle of selling at a small profit to increase the amount of his sales. He afterwards invested largely in lands, and owned large estates in several English counties and also in Scotland. He was many years in Parliament, and was always a Liberal in politics; he was author of a work on the Defects of the English System of Railway Legislation, and in 1848 a volume was published by ongman, containing a selection from his Parliamentary speeches. He was a self educated man, but he ossessed a refined taste in literature and art, and had collected a remarkably rich library and a noble gallery of paintings. He was one of the nobles of England who inherited neither a name nor a fortune, nor was indebted for any of his distinctions to the crown or the people.

THE PROPOSED NEW TERRITORY .- Some four months since, the residents of Carson Valley held a public meeting, at which they resolved to memorialize Congress for the erection of a new Territory, east of the Sierra Nevada, including that and several other valleys at the base of the mountains. On the 3d Nov. he residents of Honey Lake Valley held a meeting, and indorsed the action of their Carson Valley brethren. The design is, to include in this new Territory the great basin between the Goose Creek range of mountains on the East, and the Sierra Nevada on the West, and between the Oregon and Utah line on the North, and the Colorado River on the South. Both the meetings referred to elected Judge J. M. Crance their delegate to lay the subject before Con-

CANDLES, in great variety. $2-tf California Brandy!

VINTAGE 1856. THE UNDERSIGNED OFFER FOR SALE CALIFORNIA BRANDY, in assorted packages, and is quantity to suit purchasers. This Brandy is guaranteed to be a pure distillation of the juice of the Native Grape, and possessing in an eminent degree all the aroms and delicacy of flavor for which the California Grape is so highly renowned. Competent judges have pronounced the quality to be fully equal to the best French Brandy: and the Public are assured that not only the Wine from which this Brandy is made, but also the construction of the stills, and the whole modus operandi, are precisely the same as used in France; in fact, the principal distiller himself has been for many years foreman of a firm celebrated for their Brandies in Cogmac. We trust that a discerning public will appreciate the Importance of the introduction of PURE NATIVE LIQUORS as a substitute for the vile poisonous trash known as mixed brandy, with which our market has been flooded. The bloated, bleared and disgusting specimens of humanity that we meet at every step, sufficiently attest the effects of the deleterious Oil of Cognac, and the no less poisonous Fusil Grain Oil, contained in the so-called pure spirits used in the adulteration of genuine liquors. The subscribers are enabled to offer this fine brandy at less than half the cost of French brandy of the same grade, and they confidently invite a trial of its quality, by sample or otherwise; believing that the people will sustain them in their endeavors to introduce our Home productions, and also to check the terrent of poison which has, up to this period, deluged our state. To Physicians and others, wishing a pure article for medicinal purposes, we can confidently recommend our California brandy, (even in preference to French,) on account of its undoubled purity. To the public at large we will simply say, ray if JAMES T. McDOUGALL & CO., 175 Sansone street, San Francisco.
